THE GARDEN CONTEST

Committee to Begin Examinations This Week of the Ninety-One Gardens Entered for Prizes in Alexandria.

The committee appointed to make examinations of the ninety-one gardens which have been entered in the contest for prizes offered by the Chamber of Commerce will start in the work this week. According to reliable reports a larger number of gardens were planted in the city this year than was ever known here before, and notwithstanding the cold weather most of them are looking fine. A letter from the National Emergency Food Garden Commission at Washington received today says that it is not too early now for the war gardener to begin thinking about canning his surplus products.

Not only the garden surplus should be canned, but when vegetables are plentiful in the markets, the patriotic housewife will help save civic waste by preserving all the vegetables that her purse will allow. If vegetables are high in price the plea is likely to be made that it does not pay to can them. But this year, when every ounce of food saved counts in the great total, cost of preservation should not be taken into consideration as a barrier to thrift. If vegetables are expensive now, think what they will be when the snow flies:

The average housekeeper, when told to can vegetables, is likely to throw up her hands in despair. This will be because she does not know the latest discoveries of science in food canning. She knows only the old way of "putting up" perishables by cooking them thoroughly and then packing them in cans. This method is not successful with most vegetables. It is not too successful with fruit, as many a housekeeper can testify who has gone to the fruit shelf in winter to find some of her choicest jars moldy, sour, or working. And the old method is costly, too, because it demands rich syrups and heavily spiced mixtures.

The latest development in food canning is by sterilization. Under this system fruits and vegetables, well or slightly cooked as the case may be, are preserved by a process which kills all germ life in the cans after they are completely or partially sealed.

It is cheaper and easier to preserve food by sterilization than by the old cooking method of canning, and, moreover, it is even easier to put up vegetables than fruits by this method

Readers of the Alexandria Gazette, by filling out and sending this coupon to the National Emergency Food Garden Commission, 310 Maryland Building, Washington, D. C., will receive free of any charge a primer on canning and on drying vegetables and fruits. All you have to do is fill out the space below and mail to the commission at Washington as this is a part of the personal service this paper aims to give its readers at all time.

CONSERVATION OF FOOD

Would Stop Use of Foodstuffs for the Manufacture of Liquor.

That the sentiment of leading members of Congress is strongly to the effect that it is not only the function but the duty of Congress to deal directly with the question of the conservation of food stuffs during a crisis such as that brought on by the declaration of war against Germany, is emphasized in the most emphatic way possible by expressions on the subject by members of the two houses of Congress from widely scattered sections and of both of the great political parties.

Members of Congress feel that the Constitution of the United States having placed this obligation upon them, they should as quickly as possible, to the end that the war be expeditiously and successfully fought, enact laws which would put an immediate stop to the use of foodstuffs in the making of distilled or fermented liquors, instead of referring the determination of this question to some commission or other body.

Depreciation of Mark.

Amsterdam, June 18, via London.—Lamenting the depreciation in value of the mark, the socialist newspaper Vorwaerts of Berlin says there are various reasons for this, including the determined will to war of the United States which has made an extraordinary impression in neutral countries. The newspaper concludes:

"The best means of preventing depreciation is a speedy peace. All other means are nothing but apologies. Improvement in the rate of exchange is impossible so long as Germany wages war against a league which aims at her destruction."

Several houses were struck by lightning in Bristol last week in the course of the storm that passed over the city. Several trees and poles were also struck. Four horses belonging to E. C. Holt, of near Blountville, were killed by a bolt of lightning during the storm. The thunder storm was pronounced by several as the most severe that has passed over Bristol in years. It was accompanied by a comparatively light rainfall.

OBJECT TO NEGRO WORKER

Two Thousand Machinists at General Electric Plant Strike.

Schenectady, N. Y., June 18.—Two thousand machinists at the plant of the General Electric Company struck today as a protest against the employment of a negro. Last week Robert Dixon, a colored student at Union College, was given vacation work in the machine shop. The machinists took the position that this was an initial step toward placing negro labor in the shops, but this was denied by company officials. On Saturday the machinists' union notified the management that unless Dixon was dismissed they would strike today. The company refused to comply with the demand and the workers left their benches this forenoon.

THE CAMPAIGN STARTS

Red Cross Workers Will Endeavor to See Every Person in Alexandria—Every Dollar Will Help in Good Cause.

The great "drive" to raise funds for the Red Cross starts today. The various committees appointed to solicit hope to see every person in Alexandria, All should contribute something. Remember the little boy who earned money selling newspapers who gave all he had. To be sure, the sum was not large, only some pennies, but it meant much to him, for it was all he had. No one could do more.

Let us see that Alexandria does it duty and that the name of every person who can give is on the roll of honor before next Saturday night.

Uncle Sam asks for the money in order to give the proper care to the sick and wounded men when they need it after the fighting begins in earnest. The call is to all. Let there be no refusals.

Some idea may be obtained of the interest which is being taken in the campaign in other cities by the following paragraphs:

What Burnt-Out Atlanta is Doing.

Atlanta, Ga., recovering from a fire loss of several millions of dollars sent the following telegram to headquarters today: "Mayor Candler designates Wednesday as Red Cross Day. Red Cross planning a parade. Thermometer "Get the Fever, Watch the temperature rise," sign to be erected forty feet square at principle intersection of Atlantas' five corners to indicate daily progress. Arranging street car posters, trolley wire banners and street lamp Red Crosses. All city Liberty Bond painted sign boards to be repainted for Red Cross same day."

Raises $361,500 in 60 Minutes.

$361,500 from 165 citizens in less than 60 minutes are the figures sent by the Minneapolis campaign leaders to headquarters today. The telegram read: "We could not hold them. 165 men in Minneapolis Club, at setting up dinner last night, voluntarily subscribed in 60 minutes $361,500. Most enthusiastic meeting and the largest sum of money ever subscribed at one sitting in the history of Minneapolis. This was given without any previous preparation."

Charleston Challenges Savannah.

A competition is on between Savannah and Charleston to raise the largest fund for the Red Cross. Both cities have been apportioned a hundred thousand dollars. Montgomery, Alabama, is also in a race with Macon, Ga. These two cities have been apportioned $50,000.

True patriotism is being shown by one of the towns up in New York state. While it has only 12,000 population it has contributed to the war thus far the sum of $378,000. From that amount eleven ambulance units, a hydroplane, two aeroplanes and a Y. M. C. A. rest room have been fitted opt and forty-two nurses supported. Not content with those donations the people of the place are now engaged in raising more money for the Red Cross week campaign.

Concerning the part New York city is to take in this work's campaign Charles S. Ward, who is in charge, says: "The chairman of the finance committee, Cleveland H. Dodge, gave the movement a splendid start with his subscription of $1,000,000. Other personal gifts of $25,000, $10,000, and $25,000 have been most encouraging for the spirit in which they were given. Two people who had subscribed all their spare money, $25,000 each to the Liberty Loan, have turned these Liberty Bonds over to the Red Cross campaign."

Mr. Edward A. Moree, former director of the Atlantic division of the Red Cross says:

"We cannot honestly let our patriotic endeavor end by purchasing Liberty Bonds. That is merely thrift and sound business sense. Some, indeed have made patriotic sacrifices in an effort to aid in financing the war; but, generally speaking, the purchase of a 3 1-2 per cent Government bond is a wise investment and not a sacrifice in any sense of the word."

TWO GRAND JURY CASES

Negroes Have Fourteen Bottles of Stimulants in Their Possession When Taken in Custody by Officer Munday.

Officer Munday yesterday took charge of Samuel Scott and John Crutchfield, both colored, on the charge of violating the prohibition law. They had reached this city from Washington with their ample supplies when the officer arrested them. Scott had eleven pints of whisky and a quart of gin in his possession, and Crutchfield two quarts of whisky. They were arraigned before the Police Court this morning when they were ordered to be held for the grand jury.

Several white and colored men were charged with being drunk on the streets. Some forfeited their collateral by failing to appear, others were fined $5. each, and an old offender who "had oft been there before," was sent to jail for ten days. Another was dismissed upon promising to remain sober one month.

J. T. Tuck, a white man from Richmond, was arrested by Officer Smith for being drunk. He had a pint bottle of liquor in his possession, also an old fashioned pistol. He was fined $20.

Benjamin Dobson was arrested by Sergeant Scott on the charge of offering to procure whisky for a soldier. The officer testified that the soldier gave Dobson ten cents and the latter told his prospective customers to enter an alley where he would furnish him with the liquor. The sergeant arrested Dobson before he could join the soldier. The accused was dismissed.

Maud Mines, colored, had been arraigned to answer the charge of robbing William Lewis, colored, of six dollars. The charge was not sustained, but during the investigation it was shown that the man and woman were guilty of disorderly conduct, and they were fined $10 each.

John Quill, colored, was fined $5 for the larceny of $1 from Jack Watkins, colored.

Other minor cases were disposed of.

BASE BALL

Cardinals Win Two Games Yesterday

The Cardinals of this city won a double header yesterday. In the first contest the following named players were in the line-up: Cardinals: Merchant, first base; Sweeney, second base; George Allensworth, third base; Devers, short stop; Owens, right field; Nugent, center field; Jeff Williams, left field; Mc Bride, pitcher; Patterson, catcher.

Company D, Fifth Maryland Infantry: Baker, first base; Clayton, second base; Goldsborough, third base; Haupt, short stop; Young, right field; Lustings, center field; Molly, left field; Sullivan and Hoffman, pitchers; Cerrick, cather. The soldier lads from the Mexican border played very good baseball considering the long train ride to reach this city, and made an excellent showing against the Cardinals. The score: Cardinals, 12; Company D, 1.

In the second contest the Cardinals won from the Virginia Grays by the score: Cardinals, 9; Virginia Grays, 5. McDonald officiated as umpire.

The circus Saturday, at 3 o'clock on the high school grounds, for the benefit of the Boy Scout rooms, will undoubtedly be one of the most successful affairs ever given in this city. The attractions are numerous and home talent, always a drawing card, will be at its best. Ice cream cones, peanuts, popcorn and regular "circus lemonade". Think how all enjoy a circus, and now with the additional incentive of a benefit for the men who are "doing their bit" for these rooms will be fitted up for the soldiers to have a place on the order of a soldiers' club.

AMERICA'S MESSAGE.

Such a sane, simply spoken and ardently friendly message as Elihu Root delivered to the Russian people upon his arrival in Petrograd last week should operate effectively, if anything in way of suggestion can so operate, to bring the leaders of the wild and woolly theories to a community of purpose. As is suggested by a contemporary, Mr. Root's message would stir the Russian people profoundly if its sense and significance could reach them as the sense and significance of any similar utterance would reach the people of the United States. But of Russia's 170,000,000 it is doubtful whether 1,000,000 will read and understand the purport of either the recent message of the President of the United States or of Mr. Roots friendly urge and warning. Since the overturning of Czarism organs of opinion—newspapers preaching the wildest and weirdest theories—have sprung up all over Russia. The President's message, according to the information that has come back, was warped and twisted as to its meaning and purpose in many of these publications Attempts to ridicule it were general, though the better class of newspapers featured it and commented upon it with a right understanding of its significance.

WHO TO EXEMPT

The drainage of millions of men taken away from productive occupations to fight on the battlefields of Europe has so reduced the normal and usual world food supply that among all the belligerents engaged in the conflict, as well as among neutral nations, the question of how to get needed daily bread and meat has become imminent and pressing. The United States in proportion to its ability as a food producer more than in any other particular can give effective aid in bringing the war to a successful end.

It is suggested that under these circumstances the selective draft of men to take active part in the fighting should be so conducted as to provide for the exemption of all who are known to be actively engaged in the production of foodstuffs. The men who are at work raising gram and potatoes or rearing cattle, horses sheep and poultry, cannot possibly be more effectively or advantageously employed in doing America's part in the fight for world-wide liberty and future international peace and good will. More labor is imperatively needed in the fields, on the ranches, and in all the detail necessary to bring sustenance from the hand of the producer to the mouth of the consumer. As the war is prolonged every day makes it clearer that the final mastery is becoming more and more a matter of food supply. No food, no fight.

THE ENEMY WE CONFRONT.

The Richmond Virginian calls attention to the fact that all Germany—certainly all Germany in so far as authority is concerned—is inoculated with the Bismarckian theory of force. Military power has been glorified and the principles of the doctrine of violence have been inculcated rather than those of the doctrine of kindness. Kultur rather Christianity is the religion of the directing spirits of the empire, while the mercy and goodness and love of God for even his weakest creatures find no place in hearts hardened by greed or power.

The teachings of Treitsche and of Nietzsche seem to have taken firm hold upon the nation for certainly the lessons of their philosophy have been generally reflected in German conduct.

The former teaches that war is necessary that weak peoples may be eliminated, and that when the weak stand in the way of the strong they must die or submit. These are his own words: "The state has no power to limit its own power; hence no treaty when it becomes inconvenient can be binding; hence the very notion of arbitration is absurd; hence war is part of the Divine order."

Nietzsche even denounces Christianity itself a sa religion of the weak fit only for "shopkeepers, cows, women and Englishmen."

SUCCESS OF LIBERTY LOAN.

The response of the nation to the Liberty Loan has manifested its determination to finance the war in similar emphatic manner. As the Richmond Journal says, while there have been many large subscriptions, running into the millions, the ringing note of the campaign is the universality of faith expressed. The small investor, the man with an average income, has proved his belief in the principles of the war by his acts. He has pledged his earnings to the government in behalf of democracy, of humanity and of permanent peace. The success of the loan is a genuine triumph for democracy and the unmistakable expression of the American people to prosecute the war to a swift and successful conclusion. If the German spies in this country are loyal to their Fatherland, they, will convey the news without gambling, to the end that the German people may be correctly informed of what to expect if they further prolong the losing war they are now waging. American valor, American wealth and American determination are pledged as a unit to defeat militarism and all that it implies. That is the true meaning of the Liberty Loan popular subscription.

SIGNS OF EARLY PEACE?

While the greatest carnage the world has ever seen still goes on, and everything seems to bear out a belief that the conflict will continue for another year at least, signs are not lacking that peace may be approaching. One of these signs is an order just issued by the Vatican to all missionary societies to prepare for a resumption of work in their respective fields. This order is taken to mean that the Vatican has positive reasons for believing that the end of the conflict is in sight, and that there is more than one nation now endeavoring to induce some of the more obstinate belligerents to abandon the policy of war for military victory's sake alone and accept the invitation to participate in a peace conference.

Another sign encouraging the belief that peace is near has just been brought to light, when an investigation among the hotels formerly owned by German subjects and closed in May, 1915, showed that the caretakers were quietly preparing to reopen at an early date.

U-BOAT CHASERS.

(Baltimore American)

There have been so many variations to the hurry call for ships that attention has been turned from the score or so of contracts that were placed for U-boat chasers in the early part of the current year. It was in original expectation that at least 100 of these small, swift gunboats would be ready for delivery by the first of August. A recent announcement is to the effect that delay in delivery of the drive machinery will interfere with the putting of the chasers into commission on schedule time. There are more than 200 in building, but probably not more than 25 will be ready by August 1.

About 350 yachts have been put to coast patrol service.— Many of these are larger than the modeled U-boat chasers and quite as swift. The type of chaser now building is a 110-foot craft. The preponderance of opinion in naval circles seems to be that a larger model for submarine hunters should be adopted in the placing of future contracts for patrol vessels. The theory is that the 110-foot crafts are not large enough for the rough water conditions prevalent in the North Atlantic from November to April.

In the daily volume of war literature there recently appeared the reproduction of an enthusiastic description by a French newspaper of an American submarine chaser now patroling French waters. This vessel it was said, was fitted with many ingenious contrivances and was thought to be wonderfully adapted to the business of hunting the U-boat. The ship referred to is, probably, one of the swift American destroyers, and not one of the specially designed U-boat chasers.

COUNCIL OF DEFENSE.

Widespread Interest in the Meeting of Women to be in Richmond Tomorrow Morning.

Richmond, Va., June 18.—Reports reaching the Council of Defense from many parts of the State indicate that there is widespread interest in the meeting of women to be held tomorrow morning in the Senate Chamber of the Capitol. The meeting was called by Mrs. B. B. Munford, at the request of the Virginia Council of Defense. Mrs. Munford was named temporary chairman for Virginia by the Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense, Washington.

The object of the meeting next Tuesday is to organize a Virginia division of the National Woman's Committee. The work of this body will consist in organizing the women of Virginia to do all they can to help the Old Dominion do her full share to win the war.

There have been invited to this initial meeting, at the suggestion of the Washington authorities, and under the rules governing the State Division of the National Woman's committee throughout the country, the presidents of women's organizaor their representatives, some representatives of national women's organizations having branches or duly accredited representatives in Virginia and a few women chosen in their individual capacity by reason of their weel recognized service along some special line, or as representing certain groups of women in the state as yet unorganized.

Governor Henry C. Stuart is expected to address the meeting on Tuesday. Gen. E. W. Nichols, superintendent of the Virginia Military Institute, and chairman of the Virginia Council of Defense, and Hon. Richard Evelyn Byrd, vice chairman of the Council, are also expected to speak.

HELD IN $25,000 BAIL EACH

Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman Charged With Conspiracy Against Government.

New York, June 18—Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman, called the two leading anarchists in this country, were Saturday held for action of the Federal grand jury in $25,000 bail each by a United States commissioner on charges of conspiracy against the government. They are accused of working to prevent registration for the selective draft. Both waived examination.

"These people are leading spirits in a country-wide conspiracy against the United States government," Harold Content, assistant United States attorney, said in presenting the complaint against them. "They are continual disturbers against peace and law, known all over the country. The government must use drastic measures in order to live up to the President's proclamation."

VIRGINIA NEWS.

As a result of an automobile accident Saturday afternoon, Ed Harris received injuries from which he died, John Johnson and Joe Bibb are in a hospital in Charlottesville, the former with probably fatal injuries, while the other two occupants, Delmar Binns and William Johnson, received only minor bruises. All are from the Green Springs section in Louisa county. The accident occurred at a bridge near "Frascaty," four miles from Gordonsville, the car striking the bridge railing with such force as to break it down, totally demolishing the car, and throwing three of the men to the rocks below, a distance of twelve feet.

The deliberations of the Virginia Bankers' Association, which will hold its twenty-fourth annual convention in the Chamberlain Hotel, at Old Point Comfort, the three days starting Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, are expected to be of unusual interest and of especial value to members of the banking fraternity because of the extraordinary conditions existing in financial circles since the United States has entered the world war, and is now floating its first war loan. Indications point to a record-breaking attendance.

Beginning today every ship that enters Norfolk from Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington will be rigidly searched by squads of prohibition officers, and whenever liquor is found on any of them the responsible agent on each ship will be placed under arrest and vigorously prosecuted by the Commonwealth's attorney of the city or county in which the ship lands. This was decided on Saturday at a conference between Prohibition Commissioner J. Sidney Peters, Guy T. Horner, special attorney for the prohibition department, and the Commonwealth's attorneys and chief of police of every city and county in the Norfolk district.

Arnold Henkel, who has been held some time in the Norfolk jail as an alien enemy, sawed his way out early yesterday an descaped. Henkel cut three heavy iron bars and dropped ten feet to the ground.

At the grand convention of the Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm, held in Washington during the past week, Andrew Jackson Montague, member of Congress from this district, was made a prophet at sight, an honor which has never before been conferred on any one in the grand convention of this order.

Archdeacon J. S. Russell, principal of St. Paul's Normal and Industrial School at Lawrenceville, who was recently elected suffragan bishop of the Diocese of Arkansas, has sent a telegram to Bishop Winchester declining the election.

Norway and Other Countries Depend on U. S. for Food—Early Peace is Predicted.

Unless Norway and other neutral countries in Europe can secure food from the United States it means starvation. Hilmar Aslaksen says this, and he is one of the most prominent provision merchants in Norway. He landed in this country on May 29 and has during the past few days been in consultation with Food Director Hoover, in Washington, D. C. He is now in Baltimore.

Mr. Aslaksen says that Germany is in a very serious condition and if Russia holds out there will be a speedy termination of the war. Since his arrival Mr. Aslaksen has visited many of the large cities in the Middle West and has also visited the Pacific Coast and talked with the produce packers and grain men. He claims that he is not in this country to purchase foodstuffs at this time, but is making plans to have these things come into Norway after the close of the war.

"Things are in a very serious condition in Germany," said Mr. Aslaksen, "and all indications point to a speedy termination of the ar. The Emperor of Germany made a great mistake when he got the United States involved. He thought that he could depend upon the 20,000,000 Germans and German-Americans to come to his assistance, but he has found out his mistake.

"The newspapers in the United States have misrepresented conditions in Norway. Norway, like other neutral countries in Europe, is compelled to look to the United States for food or the people in those countries will starve.

"There is a great shortage of food in Norway and a heavy fine is imposed upon anyone who allows food to leave the country.

"I cannot understand why the people in the United States should think for an instant that Norway is furnishing food to Germany when the men, women and children have not enough at home for themselves. The United States must send food to Norway or starvation faces the people."

CALIFORNIA TOWN BURNED

50 Sugar Mills Destroyed—Summer Resorts Threatened.

Ojai, Cal., June 18.—Only the business section of this town and a few isolated residences survived the fire which Saturday night swept down the Ojai valley.

After burning over 50 sugar mills and causing damage in excess of $300,000 the flames were reported burning fiercely on the high ridges north of here and still beyond control of the 500 fire fighters.

Most of the 1,000 residents of the town are being cared for by Ventura branch of the Red Cross at Ventura and Santa Paula whither they were taken in automobiles last night. Only two persons are known to have been injured.

A brush fire is sweeping toward Sheppard's Inn and Stanley Park, summer resorts near Carpinteria. A general call for help has been sent out from the threatened points. Residents of the summer resorts are being taken away in automobiles.

POLICY OF REPRISAL.

Londoners Demand Air Raids Upon Berlin, Frankfort and Other German Cities.

London, June 18.—A largely attended citizens' meeting at London Opera House yesterday adopted a resolution proposed by the lord mayor urging the government to initiate a policy of reprisals in the shape of ceaseless attacks on German towns and cities in order that their populations may experience the effects of such methods of warfare, and thus be induced to force the German authorities to cease their air attacks upon open towns.

Several local mayors and members of the house of commons were present, and it was suggested that reprisals should be undertaken conjointly by at least two of the allied powers, namely, France and England, and that such cities as Frankfort and Berlin should be selected.

London, June 18.—The presence of Portuguese troops on the western battle front was made known yesterday for the first time in announcements issued by both the British and French Army Headquarters, which credited them with repelling on several occasions attacks of the enemy.

The British statement said: "Portuguese troops have repelled several German raids during June," while the French War Office reported: "Since the first of the month the Portuguese troops have repelled several different attempts of the enemy."

Prominent Catholic Prelate, Known as Writer and Speaker, Expires at Home in Trenton.

Trenton, N. J., June 18.—Right Rev. James A. McFaul, Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Trenton for nearly a quarter of a century, died late Saturday afternoon at the episcopal residence on North Warrent Street. The death was due to a complication of diseases. He was known as a writer and speaker.

He organized the American Federation of Catholic Societies, and was successful in adjusting the controversy between the Ancient Order of Hibernians and the Board of Erin, resulting in a union of the two.

Born near the village of Larne, County Antrim Ireland, June 6, 1850, James A. McFaul was brought to the United States by his parents when he was six years old, and was educated in Catholic institutions. He was ordained a priest in 1877.

The Red Cross war relief fund campaign was launched in Richmond yesterday afternoon at a largely attended mass meeting, at which more than $275,000 was pledged. Representative Carter Glass was the principal speaker. The meeting as preceded by a parade in which thousands of young women and children in Red Cross garb participated.

Two French steamers arriving at Gibraltar, one from the Mediterranean and the other from the Atlantic, report that they were attacked in sight of the Spanish coast and outside the zone blockade declared by Germany in submarines of the largest type. PASTOR ATTACKS KAISER.

Rev. Dr. D. H. Martin Predicts Speedy Downfall of Germany.

That the Kaiser's soul is already "damned for this world and for eternity," is the opinion expressed by Rev. Dr. D. H. Martin, pastor of Wesley Chapel, Washington, in his sermon preached last night on "The Red Cross Campaign." Dr. Martin emphasized the readiness of the American people to contribute to the Red Cross and predicted that when the total is added up, more will have been subscribed than the Red Cross asked for.

Dr. Martin said in part:

"America is brim full of the war spirit, and there is no apathy among our people. Our nation has never failed in anything that it has undertaken, and we are not going to fail in this war. Recent events have given the lie direct to all who have said that America is apathetic and not in earnest in this conflict. The psychological moment has come when America will not let the opportunity to strike Germany a deadly blow pass. She will act immediately and with telling effect.

"The great things that our country has done in preparation for the war in the past few weeks have terrorized the Kaiser and stunned the German people. The Kaiser's throne is tottering and Germany is on the brink of a revolution. The imperial house is panicky. Germany has not let the world know her real condition. The message of the Kaiser to King Constantine assuring him of the imperial "wrath" is the muttering of a madman, the dying wail of a soul already damned for this world and eternity. America has not hatred for the German people, but she has a solar plexus for the pernicious idea of the divine right of kings and all that goes with it."

CONDITIONS IN SPAIN.

Virtually Blockaded and Suffering From Shortage of Food.

Paris, June 18.—Virtually blockaded, suffering from a shortage of foodstuffs and fuel and torn by conflicting sympathies in the great war, Spain faces a serious internal upheaval.

The first news to come out of the kingdom in nearly a week was received by the Petit Parisien today from its special correspondent investigating conditions in Spain. His report reveals that, coupled with the increasing labor unrest due to the tremendous cost of living, seditious movements on a large scale are confronting the Dato ministry which has just some into power.

One of Spain's most important captaincies-general, in the northeastern part of the kingdom, inhabited by some 2,000,000 souls, is demanding independence from the Madrid government. The situation is most threatening in the capital and at Barcelona. Throughout the country great strikes are brewing. In Asturias in Northwestern Spain, the workers have threatened to walk out tomorrow unless their demands for higher wages are met. Prices have jumped 25 per cent in the last three months. The coal shortage is increasing daily.

RUSSIANS TO FIGHT.

Immediate Offensive Is Answer to German Peace Offer.

Petrograd, June 18.—Russia is back in the saddle.

The Duma, in secret session, has just adopted a resolution virtually ordering an immediate offensive. The resolution decries separate peace and calls continued inactivity on the battle line "ignoble treason." The ink of extra editions of newspapers announcing the pledge of the Workmen's and Soldiers' council to the Root mission for a fight to the finish against the central powers was scarcely dry when the Duma's action was made public yesterday.

The third sensation of the day, equally as indicative of a revival of Russia's fighting spirit, was the expulsion by the provisional government of Robert Grimm, the Swiss Socialist, who came here to plead for peace on behalf of the Germans.

The Duma announced its action in a public statement. It begins by saying that Russia's history would be besmirched for generations to come by the blot of separate peace and that the present laxity at the front is equal to such shame. It continues:

"The Duma, therefore, considers that the safety of Russia was the maintenance of the liberties which have been obtained lie in an immediate offensive in close co-operation with Russia's allies." The Petrograd press published yesterday the note sent by Russia last week to the allied government suggesting a conference for the examination and possible revision of the interally tretaies.

It is made plain in the note that while treaties dealing with the entente war aims are to be modified, the London declaration pledging all allied nations against a separate peace is to remain unchanged and binding.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Mrs. William G. Baus and her 11-year-old son, George, were instantly killed when the interurban car crashed into an automobile carrying a fishing party near Chippeway Lake, Cleveland, yesterday. Three others were badly injured.

Joseph Shacklock, aged 19, a private in Company B, Sixth Engineer Corps, U. S. A., in camp at the American University grounds, was instantly killed last night in Wisconsin avenue, Tennallytown, when he was struck by an automobile. His home is in Sharpsville, Pa.

Major James Bourke, aged 47, of the Medical Corps of the United States Army, shot and killed himself last night at his home in Washington, when he faced the prospect of leaving his wife and three baby daughters to go back to the Government Hospital for the Insane at St. Elizabeth's, where he was a patient.

The Swedish Foreign office transmitted to Minister Morris yesterday an official announcement of the removal of 14,000 Jews from Jaffa to Jerusalem, for military reasons. Morris says that this includes practically the entire Jewish population of Jaffa and that it disposes of the reports of wholesale massacre of Jews in that region.

Eighteen-year-old Ruth Cruger, the New York high school girl whose partially decomposed body was dug from the dark cellar of the bicycle repair shop of Alfredo Cocchi, fugitive in Italy, Saturday afternoon, was killed with her own newly sharpened skates. This fact was shown conclusively in the belief of the police and the district attorney's office today when laborers, digging beneath the basement floor around the spot where the body of the girl was found, brought up the skates and shoes which were covered with matted hair and blood.

Two persons were killed and sixteen injured in Saturday night's raid on London, during which a Zeppelin was brought down.

Gen. Chang Hsun's now dictator of China, President Li Huan being little more than a figurehead. The insurgents are calling a convention at Tientsin for the purpose of forming a provisional government headed by the dictator, who is expected to act as president and premier. Gen. Chang Hsun's motives are obscure, but it is believed he is attempting to obtain from the former leaders of the Manchu dynasty an agreement for restoration of the empire.

Members of the American commission devoted Saturday to informal conferences with prominent Russians. Elihu Root, head of the mission, met Alexander J. Guchoff, chief of the muitions bureau. Ambassador Francis is arranging other small dinners and luncheons to enable the members of the American mission to meet the Russian cabinet ministers. The Americans are arranging for visits to Moscow, Kiev and Odessa, and possibly to Roumania. Indications are that the commission will remain in Russia three or four weeks.

Reports are published in the newspapers of Paris that the miners of the Duchy of Luxemburg have gone on strike because the Germans have refused to increase their pay. The Luxemburg government has intervened, but in vain. German troops now are on guard, and Luxemburg newspapers are not allowed to discuss the strike.

The Argentine Minister at Berlin has informed his government that Germany has adopted a measure providing that neutral ships in British ports may leave these ports and traverse without danger the prohibited zone, except the English Channel, on July 1.

The German admiralty is showing no haste to publish the submarine statistics for May for the reason that they will prove disappointing to the German populace. A correspondent now in Copenhagen had an opportunity to converse with a man just returned from Germany, who said responsible Germans had quite abandoned hope of forcing an end to the war through submarine activity, and that the people in general now are declaring in increasing numbers that they have been deceived and misled by the preachers of submarine ruthlessness, who had promised them a speedy peace, but merely had brought the United States into the war.

A dispatch from Rome states that the Vatican has announced that it has finally refused to recall the Rt. Rev. Ceolestin Endrici, bishop of Trent, as demanded by the Austrian government. The effort to dislodge Mgr. Endrici dates from the beginning of the war, when the Austrian government, because of his avowed pro-Italian sentiments, attempted to force from him a decelaration of loyalty to Austria. Mgr. Endrici replied: "Christ said render unto Caesar that which is Caesar's. We must obey our governments, even if they are bad. That is why we submit to the emperor."
